

In- Person- Music & Language

Music & Language

Music is used to facilitate communication and language through a variety of activities. Music, an essential form of communication, is especially rewarding, inspiring, and empowering for people with aphasia and related disorders. Facilitated by a music therapist from The Harrison Center of Music Therapy, LLC, and graduate students, the HARC Heralds hold weekly rehearsals leading up to performances throughout the year.

<< Back to programs